

Figure 8-1 Structures of the metallic elements. Where more than one structure is adopted by an element, the most stable form is given first and less stable ones underneath. For hexagonal structures the  $c/a$  ratio is also given